NIFTY CHART

MARKET COMMENTARY

Indian equity indices commenced the F&O expiry week on a disturbing note as they went on to extend the declining streak for the second successive session, market participants remained on the sidelines lacking conviction amid slips in crude oil prices and depreciating rupee. Indian rupee was trading lower by 21 paise at 66.71 against the dollar at the time of equity markets closing on sustained demand for the US currency from importers. Besides, traders remained cautious ahead of the April derivative contracts on Thursday and policy decisions from the Bank of Japan and US FOMC this week. For today's trade Nifty likely to trade in the range between 7865 – 7895 in the upper side and 7835 – 7815 in the lower side.

NEWS & RUMOURS:

- Gold (Spot Dollar) major support $1218/$1191 & Resistance $1269/$1296.
- > Crude oil range->$38 to $48.
 - ➤ Global Stocks Decline as Crude Oil Retreats, Dollar Weakens: Shares retreated around the world, as crude oil retreated from a five-month high amid concerns that a supply glut will persist. The yen strengthened, reflecting investor caution before central bank meetings this week in the U.S. and Japan.
 - China Stocks Fall to Lowest in Month on Commodity Futures Curbs: -China's stocks fell, extending the biggest weekly decline in almost three months, after commodity exchanges moved to cool trading in raw materials and signs of accelerating economic growth reduced odds of further easing of monetary policy.
 - ➢ Gold ticks higher but gains capped before Fed meeting: - Gold prices ticked higher on Monday as the dollar slid lower, but gains were held in check ahead of the Federal Reserve's policy meeting later in the week. Lower interest rates tend to help gold, as the metal pays its holders nothing, but it struggles to compete with yield-bearing investments when interest rates rise.
 - Oil lower as investors take profits after price gains: - Oil prices dipped on Monday as traders took profits after three weeks of gains and as a jump in the dollar late last week was priced into fuel markets. Analysts said the price drops (on profit-taking) were a result of cashing in after three weeks of rising prices.
 - Dollar remains broadly lower after weak U.S. data: - The dollar remained broadly lower against the other major currencies on Monday, after the release of weak U.S. housing sector data and as sentiment on the greenback remained fragile ahead of the Federal Reserve's policy meeting this week.
